

Eritrea and Ethiopia: Struck a Fake deal, Treaty of Wuchale of our Time

እርትራ እውን ኢትዮጵያ፡ ግብር ሐደ ጽይዩቕ ስምምምዕ, ኪዳን ናይ ውጭጫለ ናይ ናትና ጊዜ

Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, countries governed by the Absolute Monarchy, have orchestrated a fake peace agreement between the Eritrean dictatorship and the current state of Ethiopian democracy. This happened in Jeddah, Tuesday, September 18, 2018.

The three, Eritrea, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, are non-democratic countries. Their rulers have no limits. And they are fighting together to bring Yemen to her knees. From every point of view the suffering of the Yemeni people is the direct suffering of the people of the Horn of Africa because of the historical and cultural economic ties that exist. This is unacceptable by any standard. Despite this, the three non-democratic countries are telling us that they can produce "peace". In reality, what they tried to do is to shine and smile at the expense of Dr. Abiy Ahmed, an emerging democratic star. But this kind of distraction, one of the usual vices of non-democratic countries, does not go very far for its reason.

Absolute monarchy and dictatorship, even though they are both by nature against the rule of law, they are not things that are put in a box together. 'Dictatorship is an office that has been gotten through force, and a monarchy or crown is reign that is passed from one generation to another'. So, they are with a small difference, but for Eritreans it is lifesaving, to find it they flee to Saudi Arabia.

'I prefer to be killed by intelligence rather than ignorance'

And if I can talk about my experience, I am one of the guys who have direct knowledge of the last Abyssinian hereditary monarchy that stretched from 1930 to 1974-5. Of course, Haile Selassie was her king. After few months of his sit on throne, he was voted man of the year by Time magazine in Novembre 3, 1930. From that moment on, step by step, he built his success. Thus, his keen intelligence was the key.

Some of his problem-solving methods are still things to learn. For example, we are witnesses of citizens and residents, almost all of Tigriyna nationalities, expelled from Ethiopia and Eritrea during their border war of 1998-2000. But Haile Selassie 'issued orders that the many Italians who had remained in his empire be allowed to live undisturbed, and he was generally obeyed.' (see Paul HOFMANN, The Lion at Sunset, In The New York Times, Sept. 13, 1974).

I dare to say that Haile Selassie was smart in many fields. According to the advice of my research, he also had an overview of what can and cannot be done with the non-literary languages of Abyssinia. This is a subject that is strange to the mind of Iseyas Efewerqi not to mention the rest.

At his request the Addis Ababa University begin to exist since 1950. Its existence has not lost time to be a source of Abyssinian revolutionary ideas. In less than twenty years, revolutionary men like Telāhun Gezāw and Wālalleñ Makonnen emerged (or surfaced). But the monarchy, for its survival, had zero tolerance for these characters. Withstanding this, the king didn't close the university as what the Eritrean dictator did.

The king's story has everything that is good and bad. But unfortunately, the history of Eritrea does not know anything good.

With this in mind, if we try to compare the intelligence of King Haile Selassie with that of the Eritrean dictator, Iseyas Efewerqi, it will never be a novelty to discover that the intelligence of the Eritrean dictator is the least valued. The particular kind of knowledge, skills and experience of Haile Selassie that completely lacks the Eritrean dictator is unmatched. But this is best when it is said in the judgment of the people, as usually represented by a popular proverb. 'የተማረ ሰው ይገደላይኝ' / I prefer to be killed by intelligence rather than ignorance.

We have not finished yet. But now the translation of Tigriyna, of the seven articles of the Jeddah agreement, that are below, let us know how the Eritrean dictator of low intelligence thinks and produces. They really give us access to his mind. Done this, the viewfinder መጠምመቲ (ጠምመተ) suggests that the tall guy physically not mentally very strong was used for other benefits than his. Of this I have no doubt, he who writes and speaks at second grade level Tigriyna (see gizie-nab-lewwete.org, 2018-02-09, The Eritrean Dictator Speaks and Writes at Second Grade Level), can't be another.

A deal like Jeddah, that wants to eat Eritrean geographical pie (la torta) at any cost, is not new to the region. The Wuchale treaty of May 1889, agreement that was between Italians and king Menelik II, can be cited as an example. Menelik did it to grab to power. Even Iseyas the same. Damage due to Wuchale's agreement is not yet closed. To add insult to injury, Jeddah's deal is just beginning.

"Afwerki's dictatorship once needed the conflict with Ethiopia to harness the national resource keeping him in power. Universal slave-like indefinite conscription is easier to justify in times of "war."

Now regional players have a more important role for both Eritrea and Ethiopia, so their pointless war has become a distraction.

The United Arab Emirates and Saudi Arabia are prosecuting their own conflict against Houthi rebels, Shi'a Muslims backed by Iran, in Yemen. Eritrea's coastline provides the coalition's forces with the havens they need to fight in Yemen.

Allowing the Red Sea to be choked off between Eritrea and Yemen is inconceivable. So the UAE wants bases -- and will pay for them -- in Eritrea.

The UAE has invested heavily in Eritrea and is promising to pay for an oil pipeline to link it to Ethiopia.

On top of that, Ethiopia has received, or will get, a $1 billion deposit into its central bank and $2 billion in additional investments from the UAE, Ethiopian officials have said.

It's too late for the broken youth of two decades ago.

But Eritrea and Ethiopia have, effectively, been paid by Gulf nations to sign a peace accord in Jeddah under the indulgent eye of Saudi Arabia's King Salman. Let's hope they get value for their money." (see A pointless, savage war is finally over - CNN - CNN.com/2018/09/18/)

»ግን አርቅራ እውን ኢትዮጵያ እየን ንቡራት, ኣብ ሐቕቂ, ዕዲያት ብ እተን ሀገራት ናይ እቲ ጎልፎ ምእንቲ ፈርረመ ሐደ ስምምምዕ ናይ ሰላም ኣብ ጂድዳ ትሕቲ እቲ መናሕሰዪ ዓይኒ ናይ እቲ ንጉስ ሳልማን ናይ እታ ሳውዲ ዓረብያ. ንትሰፈው ዝ ይረኽቡ ሐደ ዋጋ ምእንቲ እቲ ናቶም ሰልዲ»

The paid money, not declared, how much and where is it ? Iseyas Efewerqi, dictator and asocial, is not disguised as a man of integrity. He's just continuing his vices. But what I cannot understand is that behavior of Dr. Abiy Ahmed, considered the honest man. But I hope he speaks only the truth right away. Of this he must think seriously because people have zero tolerance for this.

For the Eritrean dictator who changes master, Iran, Saudi Arabia ..., means being a key regional actor. But the most extraordinary is that he is calling the neighboring governments to make 'peace'. The goal of this act is not what it demonstrates, but that is hidden. But they are altogether clear which are intended to deceive the United Nations and to be free from its sanctions. Beyond that, neighboring countries know that the real peace they need does not come from a dictatorial government but from a democratic government. Above all, these countries still feel the threat of the secret underground tunnels built by the Eritrean dictator to destabilize them.

Il lupo cambia il pelo ma non il vizio prov.
 The leopard never changes his spots
 አቲ ተኸላ ይልውውጥ አቲ ጸጉሪ ግን ከትቶ አቲ አመል.

The last Abyssinian dictator, who has a behavior similar to that of his feudal ancestors, doesn't know that he doesn't know. The worst is that there is not a soul who can tell him. Of this the photo, of Haddas Eritrea 16.09.2018, on the left, tells more. With this colossal burden, that is, a state in which an ignorant man decides and another ignorant man performs, Eritrea has walked a lot. She paid what she paid. And yet it is not liberated.

The international appeal for justice has not changed the status quo. He is always there with his usual huge castle of human rights abuses. We now share how he translated the false Jeddah agreement from English into Tigriyna. Of course, we will go from bad to worse. But for him an erroneous interpretation of the truth, with which he paralyzes the Eritrean mind, is a sign of being still in power. Let's go see everyone.
